

our Values

As an established manufacturer of high quality furniture for the Education, Health-care, Library, Military and Corrections markets.

We are dedicated to quality:

In the products and services we provide our customers and in our relationships with each other.

We care about people:

By fostering an attitude that is supportive and professional to our customers, our suppliers, our community, and our fellow employees.

By creating a culture which embraces the highest ethical standards and which is open, honest and participative. By establishing a work place that is dedicated to producing superior quality in the most efficient, most economical, and most environmentally-friendly manner.

By creating a work environment that encourages exceptional performance and mutual trust.

We encourage employees to participate in the decision making process:

By providing education and training to build confidence.

By providing tools and systems that facilitate participation.

By standing behind employees who take acceptable risks.

By not shooting the messenger.

By not accepting the attitude that a problem is somebody else's job.

We are committed to the continued growth of our company:

By listening to, understanding and providing what our customers need.

We strive to keep our company strong:

By utilizing our resources effectively and efficiently to remain competitive, innovative, and to generate a superior return on investment for our company.
