

Soundly crafted simplicity is the defining principal of Library Bureau's new Artisan series of fine furniture. Elegant lines and purity of form are the characteristics that set Artisan apart.

Artisan can be constructed in red oak, maple, or cherry with a broad pallet of finishes and a wide variety of laminate and wood veneer work surfaces. These alternatives afford maximum flexibility when specifying Artisan.

A full range of sizes and shapes are available to meet function and space requirements. State-of-the-art wire management, power, data, communication and lighting accessories add flexibility.

The Artisan series takes advantage of over 100 years of experience in the construction of quality furniture, thus assuring the craftsmanship, durability and value that are the hallmarks of all Library Bureau products.

The distinctive base construction and beveled edge profile of the work surface tops define the Artisan Series. The simplicity of design, constructed in red oak, maple, or cherry with either veneer or plastic laminate work surfaces, allows the specifier to create elegant and sophisticated furniture to enhance any environment.

The Artisan Series includes carrels and computer work stations with optional shelves. Work surfaces are available in either plastic laminate or wood veneer. All carrels may be fully accessorized for power, data, communication and light fixtures.

Artisan Series tables are offered in a wide variety of sizes to meet specific requirements. The collection includes sizes ranging from individual study tables to computer tables to large reading tables. Artisan edge detail may be specified on one or both sides of table tops, allowing you to create either a symmetrical or an asymmetrical design. Add wire management, power, data, communication and lighting accessories to satisfy all function requirements.
